Audio Cable

HEFS series innovative audio cable is designed on the basis of advanced technologies of the world. This audio cable is a kind of connecting cords we grandly recommend.

The audio signal can pass through these audio cables on its way from the sound source such as computers, CD, VCD, MP4 to the amplifier, or to the speakers. Some other audio cables can be used as extension cables.

HEFS series innovative audio cables have successively passed various international certifications, such as: UL, VDE, TUV, GS etc. All HEFS series products including audio cable, speaker cable, and network cable can guaranteed the sound quality. The HEFS audio cables are of a great variety ranged from HEFS--5001 to HEFS-5010 which will be convenient for your choice. China HEFS can manufacture connecting cords in accordance with your requirement.
